

The well-being of our clients and our employees is always our priority at Britton Gallagher.

With ongoing concerns about the Coronavirus (COVID-19), we are taking steps to help protect the health and safety of our employees, while continuing to provide continued client service advocacy that you have come to expect and deserve.

Our office remains open and we are encouraging our employees to work remotely as needed, including from their home, to minimize any risk to other employees and to adjust their family schedules due to shutdowns of schools and some businesses. We will continue to monitor this situation closely and take guidance from local authorities and/or other regulatory agencies.

We have contingency plans for such an occasion and we are not currently experiencing any inability to secure your insurance policies or service day to day requests. Our team is fully prepared and will continue to remain accessible to you, and we will keep you informed if anything changes with our ability to operate based on measures outside of our control.

As part of the Britton Gallagher family, we want to wish you and your employees continued strong health.

We also send our thoughts and safe-being to all those who have been affected by this virus and all the caregivers working tirelessly on the front lines of this crisis.

Thank you for being part of our BG family.